

OUR STORY

More than a decade ago, Jason Lucash and Mike Szymczak were buds always on the go for work. Both passionate for music, they decided the world needed lightweight, portable speakers and headphones that made traveling with music effortless. Origaudio was born.

With insane attention to detail, welcoming crazy ideas with open arms, and always aiming to do things differently, these flip-flop wearing tech lovers began creating practical (and downright awesome) lifestyle and tech products.

What began as fulfilling orders in their garage has evolved into who we are today: boasting two California locations, valuable industry partnerships, and a constantly growing team.

Our products aren't the best thing about us- not by a long shot. It's the people. Our team is full of creative, committed, and unique individuals working tirelessly behind the scenes to bring you the custom gear you know and love.
